Diabetes mellitus and aortic aneurysm: a randomized study. The aim of the present study was to compare the prognosis of patients with and without diabetes mellitus (DM) admitted to the hospital with an infrarenal aortic aneurysm (AAA) as to early and late mortality, complications and to verify whether the treatment of the aneurysm was affected by the presence of DM. A total of 264 patients were included in the study: 94 with DM (mean age 68 +/- 0.8 years) and 170 without DM (mean age 70 +/- 0.8 years). No differences were found in the early and late mortality between the two groups (4.3 and 6.4 vs. 5.9 and 6.4%, respectively; p = 0.31). Patients with DM had more peripheral vascular (9.6 vs. 2.8%; p = 0.01) and coronary artery disease (53 vs. 38%; p = 0.03) than those without DM. As for the aneurysm type, there were no differences between the two groups in terms of the number of ruptured (1.1 vs. 0.6%), ruptured and asymptomatic (2.1 vs. 1.8%) or isolated asymptomatic (87.6 vs. 84.5%) aneurysms. The treatment (by aneurysmectomy, prosthesis, resection and graft) was also similar. There was no difference in the prevalence of postoperative complications between the two groups (23.3 vs. 22.4%; p = 0.90). At multivariate analysis, DM was not independently associated with mortality or postoperative complications. Diabetes does not adversely affect the treatment of AAA and the short-term prognosis.Q: Google Drive API gives "Cannot use files API to access 'xxx@xxx.xxx'" I am attempting to do the very basics of accessing Google Drive files with Google Drive API.
